

The public airwaves are supposed to belong to the people. It is unfair to allow corporate interest groups, such as Sinclair, to present bias and slanted programming in order to promote their own interests.